March 9, 2012

Chicago, for his contributions to the Public Building Commission of Chicago. Upon motion duly made and seconded, the following resolution was adopted by the Board of Commissioners:

RESOLUTION NO. 7775

WHEREAS, the members of the Board of Commissioners of the Public Building Commission of Chicago were saddened to learn of the death of Jacques Calman Brownson in Loveland, Colorado, on February 19, 2012, at 88 years of age; and

WHEREAS, Jacques Calman Brownson was born in 1923 in Aurora, Illinois and he was a student of the internationally renowned architect Ludwig Mies van der Rohe at the Illinois Institute of Technology (IIT), from which he earned his B.S. and M.S. degrees in architecture in 1948 and in 1954 respectively; and

WHEREAS, following graduation from IIT, Brownson worked in several Chicago architectural firms, including his own and, from 1959 until 1965, for Naess & Murphy (predecessor firm of C.F. Murphy & Associates); and

WHEREAS, Brownson and C.F. Murphy & Associates were appointed in 1960 to lead the architectural team, in collaboration with Loeb, Schlossman & Bennett and with Skidmore, Owings & Merrill, for the design of the Chicago Civic Center, which would serve as a courthouse for Cook County and an office building for the City of Chicago; and

WHEREAS, upon completion of the Chicago Civic Center, Brownson served as chairman of the architecture department at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, from 1966 to 1968 and, upon returning to Chicago, served as the founding Managing Architect for the Public Building Commission of Chicago, organized and directed an in-house staff of architects and engineers to research, plan, design and implement the "Schools in the Parks Program" for the Board of Education and the Park District of Chicago from 1968 until 1972; and

WHEREAS, the Chicago Civic Center (which was renamed the Richard J. Daley Center in 1976) was the first project undertaken by the Public Building Commission of Chicago, with its design commencing in 1960, with a $87 million bond issued in 1963 to finance the project, and for which construction also commenced in 1963; and

WHEREAS, the Richard J. Daley Center is a 31-story skyscraper with immensely long spans which created totally column-free, clear interior spans and which resulted in great flexibility for making changes to its interior spaces as the needs arose over its service life, it has been recognized as one of Chicago's ten most important post-World War II works of architecture and has been designated a Chicago Landmark; and

WHEREAS, the Richard J. Daley Center was designed by Brownson and his architectural team to accommodate the ever changing needs of its governmental occupants and has evolved over the years to become the largest courthouse in the United States, serving more than 30,000 persons daily and hosting more than 200 events on the Daley Center Plaza annually; and

WHEREAS, Jacques Calman Brownson, an architect/builder with extraordinary talent, Chief Architect for the design of the Richard J. Daley Center and founding Managing Architect of the Public Building Commission of Chicago, will be remembered fondly by the members of the Board of Commissioners of the Public Building Commission for his leadership, his vision and his outstanding contribution to the architectural grandeur of the City of Chicago;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Commissioners of the Public Building Commission of Chicago publicly notes, with sorrow and regret, the death of Jacques Calman Brownson and extends sincere condolences to his widow, Doris Brownson, and his family.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Executive Director is hereby authorized and directed to provide a suitable replica of this Resolution to the family of Jacques Calman Brownson.

Next was the presentation by the Executive Director regarding regular reports, development status and other matters. She provided a summary depicting the Additions made by the Public Building Commission to the Gwendolyn Brooks College Preparatory Academy, including the Library/Media Resource Center, the site of the March 2012 Board Meeting. The East Addition includes the Auditorium and Arts Suite, Scene Shop, Dressing Room and Green Room, Music and Practice Rooms, Library/Media Resource Center and the Distance Learning Lab. The West Addition includes the Gymnasium (Two Station), Natatorium with 6 Lane Pool and Fitness/Weight Room. Her report included summaries of environmentally sustainable features, project development information and the economic sustainability program. She also advised that the approved undertaking budget was $58.9 million; the estimate at completion (EAC) is currently $48 million, which was 18.92% under the approved undertaking budget. Also, 175 full-time-equivalent employees were hired to date, including 34 community residents from the surrounding neighborhoods. The report was accepted.

Chairman Emanuel noted that the current board meeting was the first to be held in the field in over 45 years, representing physical evidence of the Public Building Commission's commitment to invest in the communities that it served. He also provided a brief history of the facility commencing with its founding in 1915 as the Pullman Free School of Manual Training for the benefit of children living or employed at Pullman.

Commissioner Sullivan noted that it was the Fourth Anniversary for Erin Lavin Cabonargi as Executive Director of the Public Building Commission. He commended her for an excellent job which included providing the Commissioners with staff reports and making the quarterly reports available on-line. Chairman Emanuel thanked the Executive Director for her services on behalf of the citizens of the City of Chicago. Commissioner Vitale noted the Executive Director's former employment at Chicago Public Schools ("CPS") during the early stages of the development of Brooks Academy, and summarized CPS expenditure and employment commitments for 2012.

Next, the Executive Director called upon Kevin Holt, Director of Development, to present to the Board of Commissioners for consideration of approval proposed Change Orders to various contracts marked Exhibit "B". She advised the Commissioners that Mr. Holt was attending his last meeting after six years as Director of Development of the Public Building Commission and expressed best wishes for his future endeavors. After discussion and consideration, and upon motion duly made and seconded, the following resolution was adopted:

RESOLUTION NO. 7777

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Commissioners of the Public Building Commission of Chicago that the Executive Director is hereby authorized to issue Change Orders to contracts for various projects in the amounts indicated on the document entitled "Change Orders" and attached to the minutes of this meeting and marked Exhibit "B".
